

It's Over To You!

- You now have the foundations for starting a homeschool co-op.
- You are now free to create your co-op any way you like.
- Your children can now learn within a community setting and you have other parents to turn to for support.
- This is a starting point for building more unity within humankind.
- Get started, take one step at a time, listen to your kids, talk to each other.
- Learn new ways to communicate.
- You are free to be creative and do what feels right for you
- Reach out to Danielle if you need support.
- Join Australian Homeschool Co-op Connect on Facebook for support from the co-op community.
